

Smugglers, Jacobites, secret passages, heroes, poets, unexpected Royalty, influential ladies, ghosts, war, witchcraft, murder, armed rebellion and piracy - a fine day out in Peterhead. Put on your walking shoes and let the story begin...

From the haunting tale of Auld Harry in the harbour, to witch trials, and the dubious business activities of Bailie Alexander Elles - explore the town and over 400 years of scurrilous gossip.

Which mysterious monarch turned up just before Christmas 1715? Meet Fisher Jessie, and see the gift that William of Prussia sent to the people of Peterhead. Find out how a loving Aunt's legacy caused terror, and hear how cannons salvaged from the Spanish Armada defended the town. Why is Peterhead called the Blootown? Which U-Boat commander flushed his career away off the Buchan coast?

SELF-GUIDED FREE TOUR

Follow the Peterhead Trail for the whole torrid story of Britain's most easterly town. Twenty six story boards tell tales from Peterhead's past.

There are three routes - a short town centre route, a longer route along the coast past Buchanhaven and the third is our brand new trail extension between the town centre and Peterhead Prison Museum.

You don't have to walk the whole trail at once - dip in and out at your own pace.
