

Bullying

Schools are required to have a written statement about their policy and practice on bullying. This outlines the school's structures for the positive management of behaviour and the support of individual children, the school's specific responses to incidents of bullying with an emphasis on the need for children to 'tell', guidance to parents about how to raise concerns with the school and a description of the arrangements that have been set up to monitor incidences of bullying. Partnership with and support from families and the school community is a key factor.
