

Why Join Aberdeenshire?

As the North-East's largest employer, we welcome applications from all sectors of the community. You may be a school leaver or a graduate, you might be returning from a career break, looking for part-time or job-share hours or you are an experienced professional looking to build on your career. Whatever your reasons or future ambitions we can provide you with more than one reason to join Aberdeenshire.

- Flexi Time
- Excellent Pension
- Generous Annual Leave
- Job-Share Working
- Car Allowances
- Part-time Working
- Maternity & Paternity Leave
- Excellent Training Opportunities

A Career in Aberdeenshire Council

Serving a population of over 220,000 people and an area that covers 8% of Scotland's territory, Aberdeenshire Council is the largest employer in the Aberdeenshire area, employing around 14,000 workers. Within the Council there is opportunity to enter a range of working and career related disciplines in the Aberdeenshire area.

Further Information

For information about current vacancies within Aberdeenshire Council, visit our website at www.aberdeenshire.gov.uk/jobs, online enquiries can be made within the web address provided.

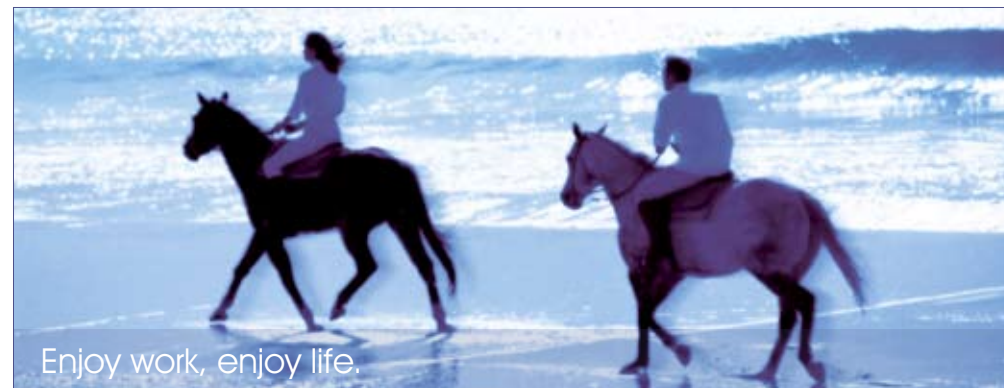

Or contact:

Gordon Daniels FRICS

Estates Manager
Woodhill House
Aberdeen
AB16 5GB

Tel: 01224 664257
Email: gordon.daniels@aberdeenshire.gov.uk

www.aberdeenshire.gov.uk

A Career in... estates

Serving Aberdeenshire from mountain to sea - the very best of Scotland

Working within Aberdeenshire Council

...what we offer

A Career in Estates

Do you enjoy problem solving?
Are you adaptable and enjoy a challenge?
Are you interested in property and property development?

Yes? Then a career as an Estates Surveyor could be for you.

Aberdeenshire Council has a vast portfolio of properties including schools, care homes, sports centres, houses, country parks, business parks and offices.

As an Estates Surveyor or Property Management Assistant you would play a central role in the procurement, management and disposal of property.

The Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors is one of the oldest and most respected of high profile worldwide professions involved in the property sector. There are two levels of membership. As a full member of the RICS you will be entitled to the letters MRICS/FRICS. As a technical member you will be entitled to use the letters TechRICS after your name.

What qualifications and experience do you need?

To qualify as a surveying technician you will require an HNC/HND or equivalent, together with practical training and technical assessment. On successful completion you will become a technical member of the RICS.

To qualify as a chartered surveyor you will require a BSc (Hons) degree together with practical training and professional competence. On successful completion you will become a general practice chartered surveyor.

There are a number of universities across the UK that run suitable courses. If you want to check out the entry level qualifications then access the following website: <http://forums.rics.org/CourseSearch/>

Alternatively we occasionally offer opportunities for those who want to leave school and pursue academic training on a day release or correspondence learning basis. Those who choose this route will learn through experience of practical work tasks and by gaining knowledge through on the job experience supplemented by academic training.

Future Career Opportunities

We will give you financial support, practical experience and mentoring as you work towards the assessment of professional competence and a professional qualification. We assist trainees through accredited courses and train graduates. You will have direct responsibility for your own project as soon as you can handle it. We will help you realise your potential.

