Local Scrutiny Plan 2015/16

Introduction

1. This local scrutiny plan sets out the planned scrutiny activity in Aberdeenshire Council during 2015-16. The plan is based on a shared risk assessment undertaken by a local area network (LAN), comprising representatives of all the scrutiny bodies who engage with the council. The shared risk assessment process draws on a range of evidence with the aim of determining any scrutiny activity required and focusing this in the most proportionate way.
2. This plan does not identify or address all risks in the council. It covers only those risk areas that the LAN has identified as requiring scrutiny, or where scrutiny is planned as part of a national programme. Planned scrutiny activity across all councils in Scotland informs the National Scrutiny Plan for 2015-16, which is available on the Audit Scotland website.

Scrutiny risks

3. In the 2014-17 Assurance and Improvement Plan (AIP), the LAN did not identify any specific areas where scrutiny was required. However, some non-risk based scrutiny activity was identified in the AIP, to be carried out across all councils during 2014-15. This included:
  - Care Inspectorate: Joint inspection of services for children.
The Community Planning Partnership in Aberdeenshire was originally selected for inclusion in the programme of joint inspections of services for children, scheduled to take place during the fourth quarter of 2014-15. However, a change in priorities resulted in the Care Inspectorate and its partners deciding to defer the Aberdeenshire joint inspection, which will now go ahead during the first quarter of 2015-16.
  - Audit Scotland: External audit: targeted audit of performance audit report entitled Arms-length organisations: are we getting it right?
A briefing on the Scotland wide work was reported to the Accounts Commission in January 2015. The Commission decided to send a letter to councils encouraging them to apply good practice more consistently across ALEOs and highlighting the importance of good governance. It also committed to undertake a review of the Following the Public Pound code in conjunction with an update of the definition of ALEOs and also to promote a stronger consideration of ALEOs in scrutiny work. The follow-up work in Aberdeenshire was reported to the council's scrutiny and audit committee in June 2014. The report identified that although the council had not established any arm's length external organisations (ALEOs) to deliver council services, it did have a financial and /or governance interest in at least 72 outside bodies. This local follow-up work did not identify any specific risks in the governance arrangements that required additional scrutiny activity. It did, however, highlight that with challenging financial decisions ahead, any decision to use ALEOs needs full consideration of the benefits and risks as outlined in the 2011 How Council's Work report<sup>1</sup>. The council agreed it would have regard to these findings in any circumstances where an alternative delivery model was being considered. The Scrutiny and Audit Committee is undertaking an investigation into alternative delivery models, and this report will be a fundamental background document for this work.

- Audit Scotland: External audit: targeted audit of performance audit report entitled Major capital investments in councils.

At a national level this work has shown that the report and guidance produced in March 2013 has been discussed and used across the majority of councils, but the extent of good practice being implemented varies widely. Aberdeenshire Council was selected for stage 1 of the follow-up work - therefore no formal reporting was made to the council. This local follow-up work did not identify any specific risks in the governance arrangements that required additional scrutiny activity. However, issues were identified for on-going oversight and monitoring work by the external audit team particularly around the updated corporate asset management plan, based on the corporate prioritisation model and alignment to available funding.

Overall the follow up work noted that the council had responded positively to the report and guidance. While a number of the good practice points in the report were taken from Aberdeenshire, the council took the opportunity to review its current processes and develop an action plan which has subsequently been monitored by elected members.

4. No specific risks were identified in the shared risk assessment this year. However, the LAN identified a number of areas which will now form part of the on-going oversight and monitoring work carried out by scrutiny partners. This work includes the following issues:
  - Leadership and management: The LAN noted a number of significant changes in the council, including the appointment of a new chief executive and changes to the portfolio of the four directors in the senior leadership team. The revised responsibilities for each director are intended to facilitate and enhance responses to cross-cutting themes, as well as adapting to changes resulting from health and social care integration. The performance of the senior leadership team as it carries out the responsibilities formerly held by the Business Transformation Board will be monitored. The role of the chief social work officer, now working across two directorates, will also be considered.

A review of the current committee structure is underway at time of writing, with a view to phased implementation between mid2015 and the commencement of the new council term following the local government elections in 2017. Specific attention will be focussed on the impact of these changes, including the continuing effectiveness of elected member scrutiny within the context of any new committee structure.

- Future years funding gap: In early 2014, a set of officer and member working groups, reflecting each of the council's key themes, was established, in order to identify where the council could make efficiencies and savings in future years. The work of these groups has now been completed. Senior officers and elected members are currently working on a set of options, to be put to wider consideration early in the New Year. External audit will continue to monitor progress in this area, recognising that in order to achieve the required savings, the council will need to move beyond more traditional options of achieving efficiencies (e.g. vacancy management and income generation), adopting a more radical range of measures.
- Health and social care: In August 2014, the Care Inspectorate and Healthcare Improvement Scotland published a report on the pilot joint inspection of services for older people in Aberdeenshire. The report contains five recommendations. The Care Inspectorate link inspector will monitor progress made in relation to the resultant action plan.
- Housing and homelessness: The Scottish Housing Regulator will continue to monitor the percentage of the council's housing stock that meets the Scottish Housing Quality Standard. Attention will also focus on performance in completing repairs, medical adaptations to housing, the relatively high usage of bed and breakfast for temporary accommodation placements, and the council's housing complaints handling performance.
- Education Scotland: Recruitment and retention of teaching staff continue to be a major challenge for Aberdeenshire Council. The council is taking positive steps to address this. Outcomes from school inspections are mixed. Whilst there are examples of good practice, there remains scope for further improvement. The council acknowledges this and is working to address the identified areas for improvement. Education Scotland will continue to provide related support and challenge through its on-going engagement with the council.

Planned scrutiny activity

5. As shown in Appendix 1, the council and its community planning partners will be subject to a joint inspection of services for children. This is part of the Care Inspectorate's wider programme of national inspection, and is not a result of the LAN shared risk assessment.
6. Audit Scotland has three planned performance audits covering local government during 2015/16. It will be working jointly with the Care Inspectorate looking at social care and jointly with both the Care Inspectorate and Health Improvement Scotland (HIS) on a Health and Social care integration position statement. It will also carry out a follow-up audit on roads maintenance. Any engagement with councils is still to be determined. Publication of these reports is scheduled for between October 2015 and February 2016.
7. The Care Inspectorate and HMICS will be undertaking a joint thematic review of Multi-Agency Public Protection Arrangements (MAPPA) in Scotland during 2015 and 2016. This forms part of a wider programme of national inspection, and is not a result of the LAN shared risk assessment. The purpose of the review will be to assess the state, efficiency and effectiveness of the MAPPA in Scotland, in terms of keeping people safe and reducing the potential risk of serious harm by registered sex offenders in our communities. It will cover all 32 local authorities and involve local authorities, Police Scotland, NHS Boards and the Scottish Prison Service. The joint review will cover the Aberdeenshire Council area during June 2015.
8. The Scottish Housing Regulator (SHR) has a planned programme of thematic inquiries into housing services which will be carried out largely in the first quarter of 2015-16, with publication of inquiry reports in the first and second quarters of the year. The thematic inquiries will cover a range of housing services including: Gypsy/Travellers; factoring services; gas safety; complaints handling; customer service standards; repairs; rent consultation; equalities; and openness and accessibility. Some of the thematic inquiries will not involve any on-site work at all and no local authority will be selected for on-site work in more than one thematic. The SHR will contact individual landlords with details about their potential inclusion.
9. During the first and second quarters of the year, the SHR will review the Charter data submitted by social landlords in May 2015 and identify topics for a further programme of thematic inquiries to be taken forward in the second and third quarters of the year.
10. Education Scotland will be working in partnership with councils to carry out Validated Self-Evaluation (VSE) of educational psychology services across all councils over a two-year period beginning in 2015/16. Education Scotland will notify councils of its VSE plans each academic term.
11. In addition to specific work listed above, and/or shown in Appendix 1, routine, scheduled audit and inspection work will take place through the annual audit process and the on-going inspection of school and care establishments by Education Scotland and the Care Inspectorate respectively. Audit Scotland will carry out a programme of performance audits during 2015-16 and individual audit and inspection agencies will continue to monitor developments in key areas of council activity, providing support and challenge as appropriate. This will help to inform future assessment of scrutiny risk.
