Education:

The Labour Party promises to ensure that every pupil leaving primary school is confident in the basics and that no child shall be left behind in the learning process. Any child falling behind in secondary school will be offered a tutor and given a choice of good qualifications which will help in later life. It is also our ambition to offer a guaranteed apprenticeship to every school leaver.

Health:

The Labour Party will ensure that the National Health Service is run to the best possible standards to make sure treatments and appointments are centred around each individual patient. Early detection of diseases such as cancer are very important and we aim to reduce the waiting time to see a specialist from 1 month to two weeks.

The Labour Party

Crime

We will make improvements to the police service; we will do more and act earlier to stop children going down the wrong path.

Families and Older People

The Labour Party believes that no child should have to grow up in poverty. The labour party will also help the elderly, we plan to put a complete stop to age discrimination and to let older people work beyond 65 if they wish.

A Green Recovery

The Labour party are going to focus on increasing the amount of national parks and grass parks in towns and cities as well as introducing better paths and walkways for the public to use to encourage and allow the people to enjoy Scotland's natural beauty.

The Economy

The labour party will continue to support families and businesses, strengthen the economy and promote jobs. The Conservative plans for immediate cuts will choke any chance we have of economic recovery. We aim to boost Scottish morale along with Scotland's economy. Labour has shown itself to be a party that stands for the people. We aim to create 100,000 high skilled jobs in Scotland over the next 5 years. We aim to regenerate the construction industry after the 'Salmond slump' in the loss of construction jobs.
